3 MORE FARMS QUARANTINED

Rush County Deputy Finds One
Farmer, Sherman Daubenspeck
Who Would Not Obey.

PRECAUTIONS ARE TAKEN

Dr. A. A. Mull Plans to Take Proper
Number of Deputies to Enforce State's Orders.

Three more farms were ordered quarantined yesterday afternoon by Dr. A. A. Mull, acting under orders from Dr. A. F. Nelson, state veterinarian, in which he was told to quarantine all farms where it was known that the hog cholera serum believed to be contaminated was used.

The three additional farms placed under quarantine were those of Jesse Bennett, west of the city; Power and Jay, north of Rushville, and Alva Bitner, east of the city. Two farms previously quarantined were those of Jesse Shelton and Jesse Walls in Walker township. On all of these farms it was learned that the serum sent out from Indianapolis alleged to be defective was used.

The reason for the quarantine is that, according to Dr. Nelson, cases of the foot and mouth disease have been traced to its use. While none of the disease has appeared here the use of this certain hog cholera serum made the precautions necessary. Dr. Mull has not yet succeeded in locating U. G. Beaver, who sold some of the defective serum in this county and therefore cannot learn the names of the people who secured serum of him. Word has been sent to Beaver but for some unknown reason he does not report to Dr. Mull.

At only one place have the officials had any difficulty in enforcing the quarantine on the different farms. This was at the farm of Sherman Daubenspeck, near Glenwood. Mr. Daubenspeck refused to obey the quarantine when notified yesterday afternoon. Dr. Mull will go there again today and will take the sheriff and all the deputies necessary to see that the quarantine is obeyed.

Dr. Will Smith, while in Indianapolis yesterday, had a long talk with Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner. Dr. Hurty stated that the state health department and that of the state veterinarian were working together to see that there was no further spread of the foot and mouth disease. Dr. Smith was instructed to have Dr. Mull go according to the instructions given by Dr. Nelson and to insist that all farms be quarantined where it is known this particular hog cholera serum was sent out after it was considered unsafe. Most of the farmers have acted in hearty co-operation for their own good and according to instructions.

Just how much of the serum U. G. Beaver sold is not known. If it were, then the exact number of farms to be quarantined could be given. The action of Mr. Daubenspeck in opposing the action of the officials caused some surprise as it was thought that he was better informed on the law.

The quarantine as now in effect works similar to that used in cases of contagious disease. No one is allowed to leave or enter the farm unless disinfected and the state deputy must know of this. The quarantine will not work a great hardship. It will not stop the people from coming to the city as some seem to think. Where the farms

BUT LO, GLEDA HAS DEPARTED

Wolf Girl Brought Back Here From Lebanon Where She Was Under Arrest to Meet Brothers

LEFT IN HOTEL LAST NIGHT

But This Morning She Was Among Missing—Relatives Looking for Man Who Got $22

Miss Gleda Wolf, late of Rushville, Connorsville, and Cincinnati and now of Lebanon, a girl who invariably gets into the limelight, evidently does not want to lead the "straight and narrow" even when given a chance. It's a long story but to make it brief, Gleda left the city last night in company with an unknown young man shortly after she had been brought here from Lebanon where she had just been released from jail under the pretense that her brother here would help her.

Miss Wolf has two brothers, Harve Wolf, of near this city, and O. W. Wolf, of Texas. The brother from Texas is here on a visit and intended taking Gleda back to Texas where she would be placed in a school and given a chance. While he was here, Gleda and her pal were arrested in Lebanon when the police raided a room in a downtown business block. The girls were found in the company of two young men and all were taken to jail. The other girl who is known here as Fatima, a girl dancer at a girl show, which was here with a carnival company, gave the Lebanon police the name of Miss Mary Bowman.

Her brothers here heard about the latest scrape she was in and decided to get her out. T. M. Offutt, an attorney, was employed to see that the girl was brought here. Mr. Offutt got in communication with the Lebanon officials and it was agreed that he should meet Sheiff McRoberts, who would bring the girl to Indianapolis. This was done yesterday and T. M. Offutt brought the girl here where she met her brothers. Miss Wolf promised her brothers that she would reform and would go to Texas with O. W. Wolf. He is a minister.

Miss Wolf was placed in a local hotel to spend the night, her brother occupying a room directly across the hall. Some time late in the night she left and is supposed to have gone back to Indianapolis. T. M. Offutt stated today that he saw a man on the car that aroused his suspicions and would not be surprised but that Gleda went back to the city with him.

There now develops a new side to the case. According to T. M. Offutt a man giving the name of Lawrence Connor went to the Wolf girl's brothers and offered to get her out of the trouble at Lebanon, if they put up $22. The brothers paid him the $22 and this is the last they have seen of him. An effort is now being made to land him for obtaining money under false pretenses, it is said.

Miss Wolf, when arrested in Lebanon Saturday night, gave the name of Dorothy Smith. The Lebanon officials were very much puzzled yesterday over the part played by T. M. Offutt. Miss Wolf was formerly employed here and came to this city from Connorsville. Last spring while in Cincinnati Miss Wolf attempted to commit suicide by taking poison but the police rushed her to the hospital in time to save her life. If caught, the brother will likely force her to accompany him to Texas.

THANKSGIVING SPIRIT ABROAD

City and County Will Celebrate One of Most Popular of all Holidays in Usual Manner.

UNION SERVICES IN MORNING

Many Places of Business Will be closed all Day—Postoffice
Will Close at Ten A. M.

Everywhere in Rushville the Thanksgiving spirit is abroad. The store windows are all suggestive of the holiday. Many merchants made special preparations to suggest the day with their decorations. Shop windows everywhere are filled with Thanksgiving goods.

The local merchants give more attention to their display windows than formerly with the result that it would be hard to find a city the size of this where more attractive and beautiful shops are found. With the excellent lines of goods that are carried in stock, the merchants can exhibit the latest that is to be found everywhere. Such showings, together with other seasonal decorations will not fail to draw the attention of the public.

The customary observance of Thanksgiving will be the rule here in Rushville. Some of the retail stores will close all day, so as to allow their clerks a complete holiday while others will follow the usual plan of closing at the noon hour for the remainder of the day. Some few of the stores, however, such as drug stores, will open again in the evening.

The banks, of course, will be closed all day and the barber shops have also announced that they will not be open for business Thursday. The customary regulation holiday hours will be followed at the post-office. The windows will close at ten o'clock in the morning and the city mail carriers will make only one delivery Thursday morning. The rural mail carriers will not make any delivery. Every legal holiday in the year, with the exception of Christmas day, is a holiday for them.

The union Thanksgiving service, in which the Protestant churches will join, will be held at the First Presbyterian Thursday morning at ten o'clock. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. S. G. Huntington, pastor of the First Baptist church. As has been the custom here, the collection will be given to the local charity organization.

The city schools as well as all of the schools of the county closed this afternoon at the usual time and will not convene until next Monday morning. Most of the factories will be closed all day.

Then there is the usual football game. The last Thursday of every November would not seem like Thanksgiving without this most popular of all outdoor sports. The Rushville team of Kappa Alpha Phi will play the Cotton Specials of Indianapolis. The game will be called promptly at 2:30 p. m.

Thanksgiving is the popular visiting season and hundreds of people will come here for Thursday. As a result of this custom the traffic on the railroads and interurban lines is heavier than usual this week. The indications are that few Rushville people will visit elsewhere but will entertain many friends and relatives. Many families who are separated make an effort to hold reunions on Thanksgiving Day.

In order to prepare for the entertainment of the visitors arrangements are already made in many

HAVE QUESTIONS TO BE ANSWERED

Picture Show Owners Want to Know
Just What Amount of "War Tax" They Have to Pay.

BLANKS ARE RECEIVED HERE

Provide $25 For Theaters Seating
Under 250—Collector Said
Recently $10 Was Enough.

Peter J. Kruyer, federal revenue collector for the sixth Indiana district, with headquarters in Indianapolis, has the owners of motion picture shows in Rushville worried. Recently Mr. Kruyer gave out an interview in which he said motion picture shows, unless they had a vaudeville act, would not come under the head of theaters in paying their "war tax" provided for in a law recently passed by congress to raise revenue because of the falling off of revenue due to the lowering of the tariff schedules.

The motion picture show owners took the revenue collector at his word and supposed they would have to pay only ten dollars a year tax, which amount Mr. Kruyer said all pictures would have to pay unless they had vaudeville.

But now here's where the rub comes. Charles Raser, owner of the Gem theater, has received a blank from the revenue collector which makes no provision for the payment of a ten dollar tax. The lowest tax for theaters listed on the blank is twenty-five dollars a year. All of the motion picture theaters in Rushville would come in this class, except the Princess.

The Mystic, Gem and Portola each seat less than 250 people. A theater seating up to that number must pay $25 a year. The Princess theater seats four hundred people and would have to pay $50 a year, if the terms provided for in the blanks are correct.

The manager of the Gem has written the revenue collector to know if it is true that picture shows with no vaudeville have to pay only ten dollars. The picture show owners are especially anxious to learn what they are supposed to pay so that they can pay it. The time for paying the "war tax" expires December 1. If it is not paid by that time, the law provides a fifty per cent penalty may be added.

The fiscal year for paying the war tax begins July 1 and ends June 30. This raises another question. Counting from November, when the tax fell due, until the end of the fiscal year, there are eight months. The picture shows would like to know if they are supposed to pay a year's tax now, a half year's tax or seven months tax, which would pay them up to the end of the year.

The blanks must be certified to and the payment of money must be made by money order, certified check or with cash. The blanks state that the return must be made sometime during the present month.

Owners of pool-rooms will be hit rather hard as they will be required to pay a tax of $5 per table. If they sell tobacco to the extent of $200 or more per year they will be taxed $4.80 more. The latter tax is also understood to apply to merchants or anyone else doing that amount of business in tobacco.

The war tax also hits cigar makers of whom Rushville has several, and dealers in leaf tobacco, so that the government is taking quite a little toll from tobacco. This toll will, of course, be paid eventually by the consumer of the tobacco. The government is now collecting not merely

SEVEN BARRELS ARE ADDED TODAY

Total is Brought up to 115 But Would Have Been Larger if County Had Joined Together.

ARLINGTON SENDS TO STAR

Milroy is Raising Individual Fund
But it is Not Known Yet How Much There is in it.

Seven more barrels of flour were contributed to the Belgian relief fund today, bringing the total up to one hundred and fifteen. There is still a cash total of $2.90 to apply to another barrel.

The fund here will be closed next Monday, the last day of the month. It is now apparent that it will be impossible to send a car load of flour from Rushville and vicinity, but if the whole county had joined together, it is very likely that a car load could easily have been sent from Rush.

Instead of adding their contributions to the fund here and making it a county affair, Arlington has sent its contributions of fifteen barrels to the Indianapolis Star. It is unfortunate that the county fund could not have been bound into one, but the Arlington people evidently did not see fit to send their flour here and put it in with the local shipment.

According to the record in the Indianapolis Star, Elmer Hutchinson was the donor of ten barrels. The other five barrels came from the following: Arlington bank, Bible school of the Arlington Christian church, class No. 2 of the Arlington Christian church, and class Nos. 3 and 7 of the same church.

Milroy is also raising an individual fund. It was impossible to state today how much there was in the Milroy fund as the canvassers expected to meet tonight and compare notes to determine the exact amount. Milroy started in to raise a car load.

The seven barrels reported today were from Miss Alice Norris, Dr. D. H. Dean, the Men's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church, Theodore Osborne the Ladies Aid Society of St. Mary's Catholic church and the Rushville Motorcycle club, two.

Rushville and vicinity, however, has done better than other Indiana cities larger than Rushville which have been raising funds. For instance, up to yesterday Columbus had raised only $337.31, whereas Rushville's fund in dollars and cents now equals $557.90.

MRS. PEARCE GETS DIVORCE

W. M. Pearce Does Not Contest Suit
But Files General Denial.

Mrs. Florence E. Pearce was granted a divorce late yesterday afternoon by Judge Meggie from Walter M. Pearce. Mr. Pearce did not fight the suit, although he did file an answer in general denial. Mrs. Pearce alleged cruel and inhuman treatment and this was about the only testimony introduced. It is understood that the alimony was settled out of court as Mrs. Pearce did not even mention this in her complaint.

William M. Cross and Irvin Cross have filed suit against Alvan and Martha J. Moor, to foreclose a mechanics lien, demanding $200.

MOBS SWARMING IN MEXICO CITY

Looting Stores and Pawn Shops and Appropriating all Arms and Ammunition in Capital.

CIVILIANS ARE SWORN IN

Street Car Service is Abandoned and Terror Stricken People Remain Behind Closed Doors.

(By United Press.)

Vera Cruz, Mex., Nov. 25.—Mobs swarmed through the streets of Mexico City last night, looting stores, pawnshops and other business houses and appropriating all arms and ammunition that could be secured, reports reaching here from the capital declare today.

At last reports a body of civilians and Federal soldiers who had been mustered out went to the police station where they were sworn in as special police and armed. It was hoped they might be able to restore order.

Owing to the fact that there were few police in the capital the mob had full sway in the city for hours. Gathering in front of the National Palace they hooted and jeered and then swarmed to all parts of the city. Many shots were fired, but it is not known whether any persons were killed or injured. Street car service was abandoned and terror-stricken inhabitants remained in their homes behind barred doors.

Mexico City is now practically clear of the troops of General Carranza. General Zapata and his hordes may therefore enter without opposition. General Villa's troops are reported to be rapidly approaching.

ENGINEER IS KILLED TODAY

Special Train on Illinois Central Derailed in Brown County.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 25—Engineer Maddocks of Palestine, Ind., was killed and several members of the crew were injured when a special train on the Illinois Central railroad was derailed at Trevlac, Brown county, today. The engine, tender and two cars left the track. The train was being brought here to accommodate Indiana university students returning home for the Thanksgiving vacation.

The Boss Always Knew

A newspaper man was trying to sell a merchant some advertising.

"If the boss wanted to advertise he would do so," said his assistant.

"But he may not know the advantage it will be to him NOW," persisted the solicitor.

"Oh, the boss always knows," said his assistant.

Six months later the newspaper man passed that way. The sheriff's sign was on the merchant's door.

"Yes," murmured the newspaper man to himself—"The boss always knows."

where the disease appears. The department points out that while these measures may cause some temporary inconvenience, it believes that once farmers realize the seriousness of the disease they will co-operate heartily in stamping it out.

The first three outbreaks of the disease, in 1870, 1880 and 1884, were comparatively trifling. In 1902 however, the disease gained a considerable footing in New England before it was discovered, and in 1908 it cropped out in Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland. It is believed that on the last occasion, the disease was spread by shipment of cattle from Detroit to Buffalo, whence the disease was carried by other shipments to New York and through Pennsylvania to Maryland. The cause of the present outbreak is not definitely known but it is probable that the disease was brought from abroad in a shipment of hides intended for manufacturing purposes.

Foot and mouth disease is always to be found in some quarter of Europe, and there is always need for precaution to keep it out of this country. An infected herd loses 20 to 30 percent of its value, the department estimates.

Misunderstanding of the Smith-Lever bill is revealed by letters to the Department Agriculture from many sections of the country indicating that many farm women have come to believe that the government is about to assist them with grants of money to individuals. Under this act, funds contributed by both the Federal and State governments are made available for practical demonstration work in agriculture and home economies.

Experts from the agricultural colleges and county agents both men and women are to show farmers and farm women the value of modern methods in agriculture and house-keeping and demonstrate the use of labor saving devices. The demonstration work under the Smith-Lever act has already met with much success in several states and additional funds now available will greatly increase its efficiency. The formation of clubs of farm women is advised by the department. They can then communicate with the county agent or state agricultural college and secure a visit from the demonstrator.

The planting of tulip bulbs in the late fall after heavy frosts or light freezes have checked vegetation is advised by the Department of Agriculture in a bulletin just issued. On the fortieth parallel they should be planted in the first week in November and further south a little later. These plants are adapted to out-of-door culture in all parts of the United States where the weather is cold enough to freeze the soil for a few weeks and they should be planted about a month before the ground is liable to be frozen. Other Holland bulbs, such as the hyacinth and narcissus, should be planted at the same time as the tulip.

IS SIXTH TIME FOR DISEASE

First Epidemic Among Cattle in This Country Appeared as Early as 1870—Last in 1902

FATAL TO SMALL PER CENT

is Always Found in Some Quarter of Europe and There is Need to Keep it Out of U. S.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Nov. 25.—Foot and mouth disease among the cattle has made its appearance this year in the United States for the sixth time in the history of the country, it is announced by the Department of Agriculture. In addition to a rigid quarantine being maintained in four counties of Michigan and Indiana where the disease has been discovered, a farm to farm inspection to ascertain the seriousness and extent of the outbreak is being conducted by the department.

Although the foot mouth disease is fatal in a small percentage of cases only, the total damage that it causes in a serious epidemic is enormous, the Department says. It is extremely contagious and may be spread in a number of ways. For this reason, say authorities of the department, it is imperative that the disease be eradicated before it has gained a firm footing. If it should spread over any considerable portion of the country, the department fears it could never be checked.

Interstate shipments of cattle, sheep, and other ruminants and swine have already been prohibited from Berrien and Cass counties in Michigan, and Laporte and St. Joseph counties in Indiana. This quarantine extends to hides, skins, and hoots and hay, straw and similar fodder, which have not been thoroughly disinfected. Railroads are required to disinfect cars used in transporting live stock from the infected area.

In addition to these precautions taken by the Federal government, it is expected that the State authorities will co-operate by placing a quarantine on individual farms

HOME-MADE MEDICINE

Best and Cheapest for Coughs

Most persons neglect a cough or cold for the principal reason that they either don't think it serious enough to go to a doctor, or don't know what good medicine to buy at a drug store, with the result that the cough or cold becomes deep-seated through this neglect and hangs on the whole winter—which might have otherwise been speedily cured, had Schiffmann's Concentrated Expectorant been used promptly.

This new remedy is so strongly concentrated that two ounces (50 cents' worth) make a full pint (16 ozs.) of excellent cough medicine, by simply mixing it at home with one pint of granulated sugar and 1/2 pint of water. It makes a whole family supply, as much as would ordinarily cost from $2.00 to $3.00 for the same quantity of the old, ordinary, ready-made kinds of doubtful merit. It is prepared from strictly harmless plants and is so pleasant that children like to take it and it can be given them with perfect safety as it positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine, or other narcotics, as do most cough mixtures. No risk whatever is run in buying this remedy as drug store named below will refund money if it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the very best remedy you have ever used for stubborn Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough and Hoarseness. The Loaded Board

The spirit of the amply loaded board is the spirit of festivity and good will. It has been since the early days when the Saxon kings tethered their steeds hard by the banquet board so that the foam of the chargers flecked the beard of the eater.

Thanksgiving day would be robbed of its particular flavor if it were a day of severe observation. The spirit of Thanksgiving without the sanctifying grace of the loaded table would be a spirit of cheerlessness. The Thanksgiving turkey is as much a part of the day as are the devotions the day calls for. The turkey is primarily a Thanksgiving bird.

The devotions would be dry and sapless if the day were made a virtual penance, as would be the ease without the turkey regnant upon the platter, while the family gathers about the board to give thanks for home blessings as a part of the liberal portion that Providence has dispensed to the nation. The Thanksgiving turkey is the emblem of the nation's devotion.

The assembling of the congregations in the churches is but a part of the devotion of the day. It is, in fact, the symbolic part. It is expressive of the spirit of the people in praise to the Deity for the general blessings to the nation. The actual spirit of thanksgiving is that which takes account of the unison of the family in the act of praise of the family in the act of praise as it partakes of the provisions of the day. Charles Lamb says that one should not only say grace at meat but a hundred times a day for the good of living. The grace said at the Thanksgiving board—and even those unused to such invocation should observe it upon that occasion—is a grace for the blessings of life which the Thanksgiving dinner then sets forth.

Back of all nationality lies the family. This is the foundation stone in the social system. The city, the state, the nation are outgrowths of the family. The people expressing their thanks to Almighty God for the blessings conferred upon the community in its several organizations is not as sacred a symbol as the family at meat in recognition of the goodness of God to its members. The purity and sweetness of the family tie, the power and influence of the family teachings, the consecration and devotion of the heads of the family circle—these are the things that fill the measure of Thanksgiving as the myriad household groups gather about the well-laden boards to return thanks for the good things of God to them. From the youngest to the eldest in these groups the real spirit of thanksgiving is set forth even though many of them do not dwell upon the spirit of praise in fact. For, after all true thanksgiving is to be in the spirit of praise and not simply to express forms of devotion. These latter are essential as the symbolizing forth of the gratitude of the nation, but the simple loving and the goodness of the family group is the basis of the real thanksgiving spirit.

The churches will be well attended and the discourse, the worship and the singing will all direct the mind toward the mighty advance of the nation that was formed from the scattered colonies of the Atlantic board and will point to the beginnings of Thanksgiving day upon the bleak coasts of New England. All this is well. God, who made and has kept the American people a nation, has done more by that act to attest the spirit of his fatherhood than by any other act in the history of nations or of peoples. All should unite in worship in the churches and return home to enter into the praise of the family circle.

In the family circle will be found the turkey in the setting of the accessories of one of the biggest dinners of the year. It is to be hoped that all may have a Thanksgiving dinner, so that all may enter into the

Unique Methods Used in Fighting Cholera Germs by Austrian Doctor

BY CARL H. VON WIEGAND. (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the Left Wing of the German Army, Tlacourt, France, Oct. 19 (By Courier to Rotterdam)—This is a story of the men who form one of the great human slaughter machines of Europe in tears. It is a story how the real human hearts of men whose chief occupation now is to kill, showed through their eyes as they sang of home and loved ones.

A story has been cabled of the "Gesangverein," of Choral society, which has been organized by the Germans in one of the trenches north of Toul, to relieve the monotony of the nights and days. Most of their singing is done in the deep, black trench. There is the dense fog, the grey, ghost-like figures of the soldiers; rifles ready for instant use rest across the protecting ridge of earth, pointed towards the enemy's line, only 600 yards away. The stillness is broken only by the booming of artillery in the distance and then song wells forth from the men whose voices may soon be stilled forever.

But today the "Gesangverein" sang in the old French church at Tia-court. The company had just come in for a rest after several days and nights in the trenches. There was a soft, dim light in the old church. The "Singing Society" of soldiers, stood in the choir loft. Other soldiers and officers sat on hard, wooden benchlike pews. Scores of soldiers stood in the aisles. There was intense silence. Then the musical director raised his baton.

"It is the day of the Lord" welled out in rich musical tones. It was sung with the deepest feeling. As the anthem swelled out, a religious feeling shown in the soldier's faces. Among those in the pews and standing in the aisles, hands were clasped ed, heads bowed—lips moved in silent prayer.

The anthem is ended. There is a moment of impressiveness and the soldier voices ring out in "Dear Fatherland, My Beloved Fatherland." Heads are raised shoulders squared. Patriotic exaltation comes into the faces—the love of country for which they are sacrificing their lives. Again the music ceases and once more the leader raises his baton for the next song. It is "Meine Heimat ist an dem Schoenen Rhein," (My Home is on the Beautiful Rhine).

It sweeps softly through the church. There is a movement among the soldiers. Chins drop on breasts. Faces soften, the patriotic fire in the eyes disappears before a softer, a gentler gleam.

A French woman leading two little children by the hand, comes up the aisle from the door and kneels before the dark altar. A soldier at the end of the bench leans over and touches the hair of the little girl with his lips. Two great tears roll down the bearded cheek of a soldier near by. He is trembling with some great emotion. His arms are partly outstretched as if reaching to clasp someone in them. In his eyes there is the expression of the most intense longing man may know—the longing for home and loved ones.

"Never, never will I see my home; never will I see them again—it tells me so," he softly whispers.

The song of home is ended. The French woman and her two little children still kneel before the altar. Silently the soldiers begin to leave the church. The concert of the "Gesangverein" is ended. Within a few days these men will be back in the trenches, a part of a war machine, but today a song laid their hearts bare.

ELDERLY PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE VINOL

Aged Texas Woman Says: "Old People Who Are Weak and Feeble Should Know the Merits of Vinol."

Grand Saline, Texas.—"I am an aged woman, and for a long time was weak and feeble, but I have found Vinol to be the best medicine to create strength for old people and for chronic colds I have ever taken. It has restored my health and strength so that I feel almost young again; in fact, I am now doing all my own housework."

"Old people who are weak and feeble should try Vinol and know its merits as I do. I have proved Vinol a good reliable medicine and much cheaper than paying doctor's bills, and you may publish what I say about Vinol for the benefit of others."—Mrs. FANNIE E. RODGERS, Grand Saline, Texas.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, sharpens the appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood, building up natural strength and energy.

We have seen such splendid results from its use, that we return the money in every case where Vinol fails to build up and strengthen feeble old people, delicate children and the weak, nervous, run-down and debilitated, or stop chronic colds, coughs or bronchitis.

PREXY EBBETS IS STILL SORE

Head of Brooklyn Nationals is Giving Vent Once More Touching on Tinker Deal

STORY WELL KNOWN TO FANS

Paid $15,000 for His Release Then
Joe Jumped to the Chicago
Federal Leaguers

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for United Press.)

New York, Nov. 25.—President Dedication Ebbets, he of the Brooklyn Nationals, is giving vent once more to loud and prolonged groans touchin' on and appertaining' to (as Stockholder Bill Devery used to say when he was chief of police) Joseph Federal Tinker and $15,000.

As is well known to earnest students of the political and financial history of the Federal League Ebbets bought Tinker for that sum from Garry Hermann of the Cincinnati Reds.

"It's a mere trifle," thought Ebbets as he handed the Rhineland Chief a certified check for the release of the shortstop. "I can get it back again by holding a splendid 'Tinker Day' and lure the shekels in that way."

Unhappily, however, Tinker could-not see Gewanus and declined to write his signature in the lower right hand corner—next to the red seal—and jumped to the Federal league instead. And the fans of Chicago
North Side held the "Tinker Day."

But the saddest part of the story is that Joseph did not take into his confidence President Ebbets and the latter handed over the big check without imagining that Josephus did not care to play in the City of Graveyards.

In the meantime the boss of Brooklyn's ballboosters is waiting for the National League meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria in this city on December 8. He vows that he'll be paid in full.

At that you cannot blame Ebbets.

KAPPAS TO PLAY COTTON SPECIALS

Fast Indianapolis Team Secured After Newcastle Cancelled—Coached by "Nig" Shank.

GAME CALLED AT 2:30 O'CLOCK

Rushville will not be without the usual football game Thanksgiving Day, although last night it looked doubtful when the Newcastle Maxwell team cancelled the game scheduled for here. The local management immediately got busy and secured the Cotton Specials of Indianapolis. The Maxwells gave as their reason for not coming that they were going to play the Wilkinson team at Newcastle, preferring a home game to playing away.

The Cotton Specials will give the Rushville team just as hard a game as the Maxwells. The Specials were coached this year by Howard "Nig" Shank, former Wabash and Yale star. Shank has lined up a team that plays football all the time and a large crowd is expected to witness the game. The contest will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

SHOOT EXPECTED TO ATTRACT CROWD

Preparations Made Today For First of Three Events to be Held Tomorrow at Gun Club

IT WILL NOT BE REGISTERED

Indications were today that the first series of three holiday shoots to be held at the Rushville Gun and Country club grounds between now and the first of next year would be well attended. The initial event will be a Thanksgiving shoot tomorrow.
Invitations have been sent to the Indianapolis gun club asking any of the members who desire to come to be present. Invitations were sent to other gun clubs and individuals in Indiana, including a few professionals. Not many professionals were expected to attend, however, because the shoot here will not be a registered one. The expense of registering is great, but professionals do not like to shoot in any but registered events because their scores do not count in their official average.

Lunch will be served on the grounds tomorrow as the shoot will begin in the morning. Several local sportsmen have friends coming to attend the event. The other holiday shoots will be held the day before Christmas and New Year's day.

(By United Press.)

New York, Nov. 25.— Entries closed today for the big society event of the year—the Horse Show, which will be held on December 7-12 at Madison Square Garden.

The show this year will be of an unusual character inasmuch as the proceeds are to be given to the Red Cross and White Cross Societies.
It is said that this will be the last Horse Show to be held in this city for the National Horse Show Association announced some time ago that the event would be abandoned, and it is only on account of the critical situation in Europe that the function will take place this year.

To guarantee it against loss a number of horsemen throughout the country have come forward to protect the show against a possible loss. They are: Dr. Thomas G. Ash-

"EMPLOYMANA DAY" IS LATEST SLOGAN

Youngstown, Ohio, Adopts Novel Plan to Give Work to Unemployed. Men Work in Shifts.

CHARITY BACK OF MOVEMENT

(By United Press.)

Youngstown, Ohio., Nov. 25.—
"Employ a man a day" is a new movement started in Youngstown today by Secretary J. N. Hanson of the charities organization here. Hanson proposed the plan to the heads of mills and factories here in hope that families of laborers who are out of work might be shielded from want and suffering.

Instead of employing only one man when jobs are open in the mills superintendents are requested to work the men in shifts of one or even one half day. In this Hanson hopes to save hundreds of families from suffering during the winter months when work is scarce.

DINNER TO COST ABOUT THE SAME

If There is Any Change at all, it is in Price of Thanksgiving Bird, the Turkey

ABOUT 2 CENTS LESS ON POUND

Other Foodstuffs do Not Vary From Last Year—Question is, Have You the Price?

So far as can be learned there will be no great deviation in the price of Thanksgiving products over that of the past few years. So far as chickens, turkeys, geese and ducks are concerned the prices may be a few cents, a pound less than those of last year, but in the main the cost of the Thanksgiving dinner will not be reduced. The principal thing anyhow, in regard to the Thanksgiving feed is whether or not the provider and head of the house has the price. For the past decade there has been a high cost of living but plenty of money. This year the living cost has not been changed much but there is a money shortage. Just how far this is going to affect the Thanksgiving dinners of Rushville cannot be stated, but that it will have some effect there is no doubt.

According to the best information obtainable Saturday, dressed chickens for the Thanksgiving dinner will be worth about 18 to 20 cents a pound dressed. Turkeys will range from two to five cents higher than chickens while ducks and geese will range along in price similar to the old reliable hen which furnishes the centerpiece for Thanksgiving dinner in the average American home.

In former years it has been customary for a great many men of sportive inclinations to go out on Thanksgiving morning and the day previous and kill enough quail or rabbits for the Thanksgiving mess. This year however, the hunting has been reduced to a minimum. This is on account of the quarantine for the foot and mouth disease. The great majority of the farmers of the county are not permitting any hunting on their lands. As a result of this dearth of rabbits very few of the quadrupeds have appeared on the market. The few rabbits on hand have sold for thirty cents, higher than the usual price.

Not many fish are used in Rush county for Thanksgiving when compared to the number of chickens and turkeys although fish makes a very acceptable addition to the Thanksgiving dinner. Fish this year are selling at about the same old prices in spite of the reduction of the tariff.

Fresh halibut steak sells from 18 to 20 cents a pound with salmon steak at 20 cents. Pickerel and trout at 18 and 20 cents a pound, nice black bass 25 cents.

One thing which is unusually necessary as an addition to the Thanksgiving dinner is the oyster, whether he be scalloped or used in the dressing. Oysters this year are selling at 35, 40 and 50 cents a quart, the price that usually prevails this time of year. Cranberries are also very essential for Thanksgiving dinner.

They are selling at the usual price 10 cents a quart with three quarts for 25 cents in some instances.

Fruits as a whole are cheaper this year than usual. This is due principally to the big Michigan and New York apple crop.

Oranges are selling from 20 to 30 cents a dozen and bananas are worth from 15 to 20 cents a dozen, depending on the size and quality of the fruit.

Celery seems to be cheaper than usual this year, but the price depends a great deal on the quality. Good celery can be purchased at 5 cents a bunch and in some cases three bunches for a dime.

In fact taken all along the line, it cannot be said that this is an unusual year for Thanksgiving purchases so far as price is concerned. The main thing as usual is—to have the price.

HURTY TO DEBATE WITH MINISTER

Challenges the Rev. Warren Goddard of Laporte Church to Prove What He Asserted

QUESTION OVER VACCINATION

(By United Press.)

Laporte, Ind. Nov. 25.—The merits and demerits of vaccination will receive a thorough airing Dec. 11 when Dr. J. N. Hurty, Indiana health commissioner, and the Rev. Warren Goddard, pastor of the LaPorte Swendenborgian church, met in public debate at the Y. M. C. A. here. Dr. Hurty, who has been answering health questions through the United Press, contributed an article declaring vaccination the only sure and save means of preventing smallpox. Dr. Goddard took exceptions to this, declaring vaccination was thriving upon statistics that were admitted in London to be forgeries. Dr. Hurty promptly challenged Mr. Goddard to a debate, and the challenge was accepted.

AS IMPORTANT AS SHOPPING EARLY

Remember the Hard Working Postal Employees and Mail Your Christmas Packages Early.

WILL GET BETTER SERVICE

Mail Christmas parcels early, is the admonition sent out by the postal authorities at the local office. This is equally as important as doing your shopping early.

Spare the postal clerk and carrier as much as possible. He will do the utmost for you that human energy and ingenuity is capable of. But he faces a huge task. Parcels will be poured onto him by the million. He will handle them all, but help give him the best possible conditions under which to do the work well.

You can spare the clerk and carrier in many ways. First of all, mail early if possible. If you can't mail early you can give little time and forethought to the matter of placing the parcel in his keeping in tiptop shape.

TURKEY IS REALLY THANKSGIVING BIRD

Custom Makes it the Fowl Which Should Grace the Festive Boards on This Holiday

WHAT HISTORY SAYS ABOUT IT

History fails to give any definite account of how the turkey came to be the Thanksgiving bird, but according to one of the Puritan chroniclers who wrote in the quaint language of his time, Governor Bradford of the colony, in the autumn of 1621, sent four men to gather game so that the whole colony might "rejoice together," after they had garnered the fruits of their labors. The same chronicler tells how these four hunters returned laden down with venison and with wild turkeys, whose meat had been sweetened by the nuts of the beech tree upon which the fowls fed and how one Elder Brewster, upon the return of the hunters, piously gave thanks unto God for supplying them with an "abundance of the treasures hid in the depths of the forests."

The following year, 1622, at the same season, after a rich harvest had been collected, the colonists assembled and organized another hunting party, which returned after a few days hunt burdened with scores of wild turkeys with which the forests then swarmed, and as an old chronicler says, "there was solemnized a day of thanksgiving unto the Lord."

Another account says that Massachusetts and ninety of his warriors were invited to participate in the rejoicings of the colonists, and that the red men came bearing with them an abundance of wild turkeys, venison and other game of the forest which they had trapped or slain with their arrows, and remained throughout the feast which lasted for three days.

Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

When I stooped, I thought my back would break. Someone advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box. I was much surprised at the prompt way in which they stopped the trouble. In a few days I was free from pain." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Brown had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. Spinal Column, Where the Cause of Disease is Located

CHIROPRACTIC

(CHI-RO-PRAC-TIC)

The scientific method of removing the cause of all disease by adjusting to the normal position the misplaced (subluxated) vertebrae of the spinal column. The subluxated vertebra cause pressure on the Great Trunk Nerves which emanate between them, thus shutting off the transmission of vital current from the brain to some organ or part of the body to which they lead, leaving it in a weakened condition, subject to disease, causing over 95 per cent of all sickness and suffering known to mankind. Chiropractic adjustments remove the pressure (the cause of disease), restores the vital energy and health returns. I use the hands only. I ask no questions; simply analyze the spine and tell you every place you are affected. Appendicitis, Rheumatism, Nervousness, Asthma, Neuralgia, Deafness, Loss of Voice, Insomnia, Constipation, Bed Wetting, Headaches, Paralysis, Hay Fever, Catarrh, Goiter and affections of the Eyes, Nose, Throat, Lungs, Stomach, Liver, Spleen, (Heart), Bowels, Bladder, Kidneys and reproductive organs quickly and permanently disappear under Chiropractic adjustments properly given. Spinal Curvature quickly corrected. If you are sick or suffering in any way; if you have tried many physicians, specialists and medicines to no avail, then it is your plain duty to consult a chiropractor.

Even Considers Weather Reports In Operating the President's Train

BY BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for United Press.)
Washington, Nov. 25.—Every railroad in the country wants to protect the traveling public to the utmost of its ability. But when a road has as its passengers the President of the United States it is doubly solicitous of that passenger.

Everything must be shipshape—if things of railroading may be so termed. The train that carries his special car must be on time. Its connections must be sure. There must be no hitch of any kind, and above all, danger even in the slightest degree must be avoided.

To this end, every road that ever carries a president makes special efforts to protect his safety and to insure his comfort. A special passenger agent one in whom the company places highest confidence, travels with the presidential train from Washington to its destination. Moreover, on other than the initial road a trainmaster, or division superintendent goes along to see that everything runs as it should. They take no chances of an accident with such valuable and valued passenger.

Just as an example, President Wilson's recent trip to Pittsburgh may be cited as showing the extreme carefulness with which a railroad place the itinerary. In the first place, the passenger agent looked up the weather reports the night before the trip. They showed prospective bad weather. Then the agent and the trainmaster and division superintendents knew that this might mean a heavy fog up through the mountain country between Connellsville, Pa., and Pittsburgh. That of course spelled the possibility of danger.

What to do? They could not take even the slightest chance of a blocked road. So early in the morning at Connellsville the presidential private car was shunted off on a sidetrack while the President was asleep and then it was hitched onto a common ordinary day coach and baggage coach carrying no passengers except a few railroad men and a group of newspapermen. The first section, that carried the president's car as far as Connellsville was allowed to proceed a safe distance ahead, and then the second section proceeded. In this way, the railroad took no chances of a fog, although as it developed, there was no danger from this source.

Incidentally on this same trip, the railroad made a remarkable record by bringing the presidential train back into Washington exactly 45 minutes ahead of the scheduled time.

When it comes to comfort on his trips, a president has solid comfort—if indeed there is such a thing about traveling on railroad trains. He has a special car, equipped with a pleasant lounging compartment, where he may read or write or rest. Then he has a bedroom de luxe, with real, life size, dyed-in-the-wool and-a-yard-wide brass bed. More over, when he arises in the morning he may either have his shower bath or a tub. There is plenty of hot or cold water.

Then when he has completed his toilet, he can sit down in the dining room to a breakfast that cannot be surpassed anywhere. "Letch" is the Pullman company's official chef to President Wilson en route, just as he has been commander of the kitchen around presidential cars for a number of years. And when it comes to cooking—well, "Letch" gets all the medals.

He can cook a steak with a touch of real art. He makes a jelly onlet, that is worthy of poetry. And his hot rolls, his fried chicken, his coffee, and other dishes are almost beyond description even by a connoisseur in the good things of life.

But the President—or rather the treasury of the nation—pays a tidy sum every trip. The railroad company charges 25 fares for the special car mileage, and the Pullman company tacks on another $25 or 50 a day for the car itself. Then of course, the commissary department amounts to a fair sum. The secret service pays its portion of the car's expense inasmuch as its operatives, who guard the President, occupy a part of the car.

A trip from Washington to the President's summer place, at Cornish, N. H., puts a crimp in the presidential travel allowance to the extent of $700 or more. President Wilson, however, bids fair to have considerable of the $25,000 travel appropriation left over when he finishes the year, as he has not done much traveling. In sharp contrast to Wilson's traveling account was President Taft's. He not only expended his annual congressional appropriation but was forced to pay extra out of his own money, for he was a record globe-trotter.

President Wilson's traveling has been confined to the East. He has been to New York, Philadelphia, Cornish, N. H., Memphis, Pass Christian, Miss., Rome, Ga., Pittsburgh and Princeton, N. J., chiefly. He does not care for travel as his predecessor did, although with the opening of the 1916 campaign, he may be expected to do considerable traveling, even to the extent of making a "swing around the circle" in the interests of his expected second term candidacy.

TO BE REMEMBERED COLDEST NOVEMBER

This Month Will go Down Alongside

"Winter of Deep Snow" and

"Year of Chicago Fire."

NONE EQUALS NOVEMBER, 1914

This month will probably go down in history as "that cold November" and will rank with "the winter of the deep snow," "the year of the Chicago fire" and other important events. According to weather observers, not in years has there been such cold weather prior to Thanksgiving.

Twenty-five years ago the thermometer showed a temperature of twenty-nine above zero the second week in November and twenty years ago the temperature, after a week of bad weather, dropped as low as in recent years has the temperature been nearly so low as this November.

A new record for the third week in November has been established, at least locally.

$500 BOND LIFTED FROM WILLIS YORK

Son and Brother of Rushville Women is Not Held Because of Grand Jury Indictment.

IRVINGTON C. H. & D. WRECK

Word has been received here that Judge Markey of the Marion county criminal court in Indianapolis recently lifted the $500 bond of Willis York, who was indicted May 24, 1913, for involuntary manslaughter by the Marion county grand jury. Mr. York is a son of Mrs. E. A. York of West Third street, and a brother of Mrs. U. G. Beaver.

York was the engineer of the C. H. & D. freight train which was struck by a passenger train in Irvington Nov. 13, 1912, resulting in the death of sixteen persons. He was indicted with Carl Cross, head brakeman of the train, as being responsible for leaving the switch open. Cross is still out on $500 bond.

JURY GIVES CONNER $1,725 IN DAMAGES

I. & C. Traction Company Believes Amount Small if Traction Company Was Really Liable.

THE POINT OF CONTENTION

The jury which heard the damage suit of Lon Conner, an attorney of Connersville, against the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company, returned a verdict, finding for the plaintiff and allowing him damages amounting to $1,725 after being out several hours Monday night. The case was heard in the Henry circuit court before Special Judge Bundy. It is not known as yet what the traction company will do. It was stated this morning that if the company was liable the verdict was certainly small enough. The traction company maintains that Conner would not have been hurt had he remained on the car and the question debated is the liability.

REMEMBER DAY IN CITY SCHOOLS

At All of the Buildings Programs Are Carried Out in Observance of Thanksgiving.

VALUE TO THE CHILDREN

Special Days Are Used to Teach Pupils Customs and Meanings That Are Helpful.

Special days in the public schools are used to teach customs and meanings that are helpful in the life of our country. Thanksgiving day is one of these special days in which the children enter into enthusiastic special programs that show the true spirit of Thanksgiving. During the week before the day, the children correlate their reading, history, and language so as to weave into their daily work the spirit of the season.

The schools have given very little time from their regular work but the bringing together of the various things worked out in the different rooms some very interesting programs were given at the close of today's session.

At Havens school, Miss Hiner's room entertained the other rooms by giving a little program play which the students had worked out as a part of their reading work. The play represented the pilgrims going to church and gave also an illustration of the services. The boys and girls were dressed in appropriate costumes, carried guns and hymn books. A regular service was dramatized and the entertainment was such that many would have been glad to have paid a good price to see.

At the Jackson school the school stage was put up in the end of the hall and a pilgrim playlet was given. This play was full of interesting scenes and speaking parts. The children gathered in the hall and such a happy family you never saw.

The Misses Caldwell and Applegate had exercises at the Graham school at nine o'clock this morning. No invitation was given to the patrons because there was not room for many visitors. The little folks gave many recitations. The success of the entertainment was due to the very excellent speaking of the little folks. Each speaker gave his part without any hesitation and embarrassment. A four-year-old visitor gave a recitation of several verses. This pleased the children very much.

The departmental school and the high school joined in a program which was greatly enjoyed by all. Programs for the occasion were made by the pupils of the grades and the high school Art class. These were very artistic and furnished the pupils a chance to do something for some one.

At the Washington school the rooms met in Mr. Bean's class room and rendered a musical and literary program appropriate to the season. The program was a miscellaneous one and participated in by nearly all of the pupils.

The schools closed this evening at the regular hour for the Thanksgiving vacation.

INVESTIGATION ORDERED

(By United Press.) Washington, Nov. 25.—Sweeping investigation of the charge that the Turkish government is interfering with messages addressed by Ambassador Morgenthau to this government was ordered today by Secretary Bryan. The government takes the position that since it is neutral in the European war it can not be expected to transact business with diplomatic representatives in uncoded messages.
